U. S. Treasury To Stop Ships Paying Tolls

Brings States Closer To Britain, France Ideas On Issues

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — U.S. officials said today the Treasury probably will soon stop American ships from paying Suez Canal transit tolls directly to the Egyptian government.

This would supersede an Aug. 3 ruling advising U.S. shippers to pay tolls to Egypt but "under protest and without prejudice."

It would bring the United States closer in line with Britain and France on the issue of tolls, but would have small practical effect since the number of U.S. ships using the canal is relatively few.

The British and French require all of their ships plying the canal to pay tolls to the old Suez Canal Co., which was ousted by Egypt's July 26 nationalization of the canal. None of this money goes to Egypt since Britain and France have frozen all assets of the company.

Dulles To Confer
Secretary of State Dulles will meet with Treasury officials to work something out as soon as he gets back from London, officials here said. Dulles arrives tomorrow.

Dulles has been meeting in London with Britain, France and other nations using the canal, trying to unite them in an association which would hire its own pilots, collect tolls and reimburse Egypt for keeping the canal navigable.

Dulles indicated he had in mind talking to U.S. ship owners about possibly paying their tolls to the new users' association, which would then act as a sort of agent.

Dulles told the British government, host for the conference, by letter that the U.S. government is joining the association and will cooperate to make it work.

Prohibiting U.S. ship owners from paying Suez tolls to Egypt would work as a form of pressure on Egyptian President Nasser.

Nasser has denounced Dulles' users association idea as warlike. Dulles has disagreed. His whole purpose, he insists, is to find a peaceful yet just solution to the problem created when Nasser seized the canal.

San Toll Payments
In banning American toll payments to Egypt, the Treasury would be acting under legislation passed during the Korean War.

This is as far as the Treasury could go, however. It could not order shippers to pay their tolls to the old company, to the users' association, or anywhere else.

Nevertheless, the ship owners might be persuaded to pay into the users' association, if Dulles succeeds in getting it formed. That might serve as an argument to win Nasser's acceptance of the association.

U.S. officials say that, if Nasser went along with the idea, he would be better off than he is now. He would be getting something, whereas now most of the ships going through the Suez are paying their tolls elsewhere.

Townspeople Debate Fact Town May Be Falling Apart

ELK POINT, S. D., Sept. 21 (AP) — It's hard to believe there could be any debate over whether a town is falling apart.

But that's the case in this extreme southeast South Dakota town of 1,500. Some residents say there have been a series of earth movements this week heralding an underground shift that could endanger the entire town.

Others like attorney A. J. Beck pooh-poohed the whole thing. Beck said it could be just faulty construction.

Meany Refuses Dock Union's Admittance

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany ruled today an exiled dockworkers union has failed to rid itself of gangster influence and must stay out of his big labor organization.

Meany made known his decision immediately after a 90-minute conference with Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn. The I.L.A., with a membership of 60,000, was ousted from the old AFL three years ago on charges it was dominated by racketeers.

Bradley failed to convince Meany of any cleanup and got a flat turnout on his appeal for I.L.A. admittance to the merged AFL-CIO.

"All I can say," Meany told reporters, "is that from what Mr. Bradley told me and I.L.A. officials has done nothing to rectify conditions existing when the union was ousted."

Meany said he questioned Bradley about whether any of the cleanup conditions previously laid down had been fulfilled by the I.L.A. and that he was not satisfied with Bradley's replies. He said Bradley told him the I.L.A. had been "too busy" to carry out many of the suggested reforms.

AFL-CIO conditions for I.L.A. admittance include demands that it rid itself of hoodlums and officials having criminal records, that it install democratic procedures to give members more voice in running union affairs, that it install fair hiring practices on the New York waterfront, and that it stop I.L.A. officials from "taking gifts and bribes."

Meany said he ticked off these conditions one after another with Bradley and got no satisfactory answers. He was overheard to remark impatiently after the meeting that Bradley had merely wasted his time.

On Meany's insistence, President Larry W. Long of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Longshoremen (IBL), a union set up as a rival to the I.L.A., was present at the meeting.

Ike Asks Farmers To Await Speech

75,000 Greet President In Iowa; To Explain Farm Program Later

NEWTON, Iowa, Sept. 21 (AP) — President Eisenhower smiled a so-long to one of Iowa's largest gatherings today, after asking a great farm throng to withhold judgment on his farm program until his major speech next week.

He declared to a National Field Days crowd of about 75,000: "Many of you will not agree with me. Some of you, frankly, will probably think I am a little bit crazy. But I am sure that none of you will think I am not honest."

Then he departed for Des Moines and a take-off by air for the return trip to Washington, and was greeted along the way in Des Moines by perhaps around 100,000 persons.

Reaches Washington
The President reached Washington at 8:22 p.m. after a three-hour flight. Accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, he drove immediately to the White House. The President's return was marked with little formality and he made no remarks to the several scores of spectators who saw him leave his plane.

In making its way through downtown Des Moines, to close a two-day visit by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower, the chief executive's caravan edged through a surging crowd so large that at times the caravan was momentarily stalled.

Streamers and confetti pelted down on the President as he stood in an open car waving and grinning to school children, teen-agers, and adults.

Just before he left for home, Eisenhower told a Des Moines Airport crowd of about 5,000 that although he had been pretty non-political in this trip, he couldn't stand it any more. He praised Iowa's top GOP nominees, and urged Republicans to get every possible voter to the polls.

Informal Remarks
In his informal remarks to the field days crowd in a natural bowl on a farm near Newton, thousands of farm folks stood in a blazing sun to hear the President speak.

Eisenhower advised his intent listeners that GOP farm policies are based on recommendations of an Agricultural Advisory Commission made up of many farm interests. He praised all members of the commission.

In making his appeal for an arrested judgment on farm issues, Eisenhower had in mind a speech scheduled for Peoria, Ill., Sept. 25 and billed as his "major" farm speech of the campaign.

He doubtless had in mind, too, the fact that his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson, will deliver his first big farm speech from the platform here tomorrow.

Stevenson already has attacked Eisenhower policies as being hard-hearted toward farmers.

If the shirt-sleeved audience, made up mostly of farmers including some from all parts of the country, expected any political fireworks, they were disappointed.

Eisenhower opened his brief remarks with the statement that, "I shall make no political speech."

Wrong Driver Nabbed, Radar Clocked Plane

CASCADE, Idaho, Sept. 21 (AP) — That wasn't me, that was an airplane, motorist Dean Eastern contended at his trial on a speeding charge.

And the six-man Probate Court jury believed him, and found him innocent.

Easter's attorney presented witnesses who said a low-flying, crop-dusting plane made a pass over the highway at the same time state police, using radar equipment, said they clocked Easter at 70 miles per hour.

P. S.—The airplane got away.

Chutist Is Killed In 2,000-Foot Fall

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Sept. 21 (AP) — A 29-year-old parachutist from Stuttgart plunged to his death at an international jumping show today when he failed to pull the cord opening the chute.

Police theorized it was possible the jumper, Edgar Hoer, forgot he was not using an automatic opening type when he leaped from a plane at 2,000 feet.

Boat Is Destroyed

ROCK HALL, Md., Sept. 21 (AP) — The 42-foot fishing boat Jenmac caught fire and was destroyed today but the four men aboard, including Capt. Copeland A. Hubbard, escaped with minor burns.

Copeland said gasoline in the bilge apparently was ignited by a pump motor.

Meeting Planned

CAIRO, Sept. 21 (AP) — The Middle East News Agency announced tonight a top-level Arab Big Three meeting will be held shortly in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

It will bring together Egypt's President Nasser, King Saud and Shukri Kuwatri, president of Syria.

Principal Says Negroes Must Take Next Step

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — A Washington high school principal told Congress today that Negro students must take the next step to make integration work.

She said they should discard what she termed "attitudes of sullenness, belligerence and aggressiveness."

Mrs. Elva C. Wells, principal of Theodore Roosevelt High School, told a special House subcommittee she started well in advance preparing her faculty and students to receive Negroes into the school in a friendly atmosphere.

But, she said, "We were not prepared for such antagonism from them."

"In the third year of integration," she said, "our problems are increasing rather than diminishing."

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Davis (D-Ga.) and made up largely of Southerners, is investigating the results of a school integration policy which went into effect in the nation's capital in the fall of 1954.

Mrs. Wells testified after another principal reported some Negroes integrated into his school with honor records immediately began getting lower marks and in some cases failed.

But Cedric Reynolds, principal of Calvin Coolidge High School, said there had been no post-integration increase at his predominantly white school in disciplinary problems, sex incidents or theft.

He said social activities had not been affected.

Mrs. Wells and some earlier witnesses from other schools testified about marked increases in disciplinary problems following integration.

She expressed a belief that their white classmates also would leave "if they could."

Mrs. Wells said that what she called antagonism of Negro students against whites was shown mostly in continuous little incidents, such as blocking aisles, or walking on their heels in the corridors.

Mrs. Wells said that, while she does not have up-to-date figures, she feels sure the average scholastic level of the school has declined seriously.

Seamen Attack Harry Bridges

SAUSALITO, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP) — Harry Bridges, controversial West Coast waterfront union leader, was kicked and beaten, by two men at a night spot today until he bled from the forehead and face.

The 12:30 a.m. attack at the Valhalla restaurant of Sally Stanford, a prominent San Francisco night life figure, brought the arrest of two merchant seamen.

Miss Stanford was kicked in the ankles and her maitre d'hotel and bartender were given a going over before three policemen finally stopped it.

Later, however, a spokesman for the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, which Bridges heads, said, "It is Harry's opinion that the beating was a deliberately planned thing by out-of-state hoods."

Police said the seamen have police records. They were booked as Donald R. Hansen, 28, and Fred Reppine, 35, both with a San Francisco hotel address. Beyond saying they had never seen Bridges before, they refused to talk.

Bridges at first refused emergency hospital treatment. Later he accepted it but said he was all right.

Fraud Selling By Telephone Hit By SEC

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — Circus pitchmen and confidence game operators are being recruited to help defraud American investors of millions of dollars in high pressure sales of stock by telephone from "backroom operations" in New York, the Securities and Exchange Commission said today.

SEC Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong also said that the situation in "fraudulent selling" of highly speculative stocks by telephone across the border from Canada has worsened notably in the last six to seven months.

Armstrong's statements were at a news conference he held jointly with the administrators or their representatives from nine SEC regional offices across the country. They have been here for a weeklong meeting.

Brucker Says Army Stocking Atom Weapons

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky., Sept. 21 (AP) — Secretary Wilber M. Brucker said tonight the Army is stocking a variety of atomic weapons "which can be used with discrimination" against nearby as well as distant targets.

In an address prepared for ceremonies marking the formal reforming of the famous 101st Airborne Division—streamlined to the "most advanced concepts of war in the atomic age"—Brucker appeared to point to:

1. Further steps toward an ultimate Army goal to provide both its own close support firepower and to attack well behind enemy lines—without reliance on the Air Force.

2. A distinction between the massive destruction weapons of the Strategic Air Command and the selective atomic weapons which the Army uses.

Brucker, after saying the Army is filling its arsenal with a "variety" of nuclear weapons, added:

"Now in the hands of our troops are weapons of this nature—the Corporal guided missile, the 280mm gun and the Honest John rocket, which will be part of the organic artillery of the 101st."

"These give us a valuable interim atomic capability, but they constitute only a beginning. In the not too distant future we will have whole families of guided and ballistic missiles and rockets to give artillery the vastly increased range and effect necessitated by the conditions of atomic warfare."

"Units are being organized and trained to utilize one of these new missiles, the comparatively long-range, extremely accurate and powerful Redstone missile. The Army is also bringing to bear upon the development of missiles of far longer range its 13 years of pioneering experience in the missile field."

Brucker obviously was referring here to the joint Army-Navy Jupiter project for perfection of an intermediate-range ballistic missile with a reach of about 1,500 miles. The Redstone ballistic missile has an effective range of about 20 miles, approximately the range for the 280mm atomic cannon.

Court Officials Have Red Faces

OXNARD, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP) — There were a lot of red faces around Municipal Court today. Caterino C. Azevedo, 43, of Santa Paula, showed up and asked to be taken to jail.

Azevedo was sentenced to 30 days in jail yesterday for driving without a license. He was told to wait in the anteroom.

The prisoner waited and waited but no one came. Finally, he went home. Today, he came in and asked for escort to jail.

He also learned that he hadn't been missed.

TV Owner Vents Anger On Shop Window, Is Fined

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP) — John Patrick Walsh, 42, went home last night and turned on the TV set.

No picture.

So Walsh took the set back to the shop where he bought it and hurled it through the plate glass window.

A constable happened to be watching.

Today Walsh told a judge his set had been in the repair shop more than in his home.

"I thought I would return it," he said.

"I've no doubt it gave you great satisfaction to do this," replied the judge.

"But you must pay a fine of one shilling—14 cents—and 20 pounds—$46—in costs."

Gusty Winds Hit Plains

(By The Associated Press)

Gusty winds churned up dust on the Western Plains Friday.

Winds estimated at almost 70 m.p.h. in some places blew dirt clouds in an area that reached from the Texas panhandle northeastward into parts of the Missouri Valley.

A disturbance centered over the Central Plains section also touched off showers between the Rockies and the fringe of the Great Lakes region.

Rising daytime temperatures took the frost off the pumpkins in the eastern third of the nation. Early in the day—the last full day before autumn begins at 8:36 p.m. EST Saturday—temperatures dropped to lows that set records for the date in dozens of cities and towns.

Among the record breakers were Lebanon, N. H., with 27, Falmouth, Mass., with 29, Portland, Maine, with 30, Windsor Locks, Conn., with 30, Albany, N. Y., with 32, Phillipsburg, Pa., with 25, Philadelphia with 38, Richmond, Va., with 39 and Baltimore with 42.

Burlington, Vt., had the earliest show flurries within the memory of the viewers here.

Mount Washington, N. H., had 15-above cold and an inch of snow.

Adlai Talks Labor With AFL-CIO Head

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — Adlai Stevenson talked labor matters with the head of the AFL-CIO today preparatory to taking off in pursuit of the farm vote tomorrow.

Stevenson conferred for nearly an hour in his hotel suite with AFL-CIO President George Meany, who told newsmen later the Democratic nominee "looks very confident" about his chances of defeating President Eisenhower in the November election.

Tomorrow morning Stevenson flies, hard on the heels of Eisenhower, to Newton, Iowa, to deliver a major farm speech at the National Field Days. Eisenhower spoke there today.

Stevenson is sure to assail the Republican administration's farm program, particularly Eisenhower's stand in favor of flexible price supports rather than the Democrat-backed system of high, rigid supports.

Stevenson's eight-day trip will take him through several other farm states and also to Denver and some Southern states before he winds it up Sept. 29 or 30, either in Washington or Chicago.

Then, a couple of days later, he takes off on another campaign swing, probably in the East.

Meany had little to say about his meeting with Stevenson today. He brushed off most of the newsmen's questions with an air of impatience as he made his way from the hotel suite to his car.

Cost Of Living Declines Slightly, May Climb Again

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP) — Consumer prices edged down two-tenths of 1 per cent in August from July's all-time peak, but may be climbing up again this month.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announced the August reversal of a steep three-month rise in living costs. It was attributed to a drop of nearly 15 per cent in the cost of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Despite the August dip, 100,000 aircraft workers, whose wages are pegged to quarterly fluctuations in the governments' price index, received 2 or 3-cent hourly wage boosts.

Their adjustments were the result of jumps in the index during June and July.

BLS Commissioner Ewan Clague foresaw a possible climb again next month because of the continuing price mark-up on meats, clothing, fuel and automobiles.

USW Leader Hopes To Make Union "Best"

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21 (AP)—President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers of America today pledged a drive to make the 1,200,000-member union "the best and largest union in the entire world."

He closed the five-day steelworkers' convention on a militant note.

"We will never go soft," McDonald declared. "If this union wants to go soft, it will have to get a new president."

McDonald yesterday was given a vote of confidence by 2,600 delegates in the form of a $10,000 salary boost—upping him to $50,000 a year.

He told the final session of the convention:

"We are not going to sit on our haunches just because we've got a three-year contract. We are going to continue to press to organize the unorganized, and make the United Steelworkers the best and largest union in the entire world."

Later McDonald told newsmen the drive for more members would be conducted among clerical and technical workers in the steel industry, hard-rock mining fields in the United States and Canada, smaller steel fabricating plants, and others.

McDonald also told of plans to set up a program for retired steelworkers.

"The forgotten people are the aged," he said. "This is becoming a tremendous problem in our country. There should be programs so that people can lead useful lives after retirement."

McDonald said he planned to set up a staff of steelworkers who are nearing retirement age to work on the problem in union ranks. He said talks with Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and other officials had given the union "a base on which to work."

Instant Coffee Price Reduced

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—The fierce competition in the instant coffee field pushed the price of soluble coffee down today as several major roasters followed the lead of the Nestle Co. in reducing the wholesale price about a cent an ounce.

Standard Brands Inc. (Chase & Sanborn), General Foods Corp. (Maxwell House and Sanka) and the Borden Co., all nationally distributed, and Albert Ehlers Inc., an East Coast distributor, all cut their price. The cut was 50 cents a case of 24 two-ounce jars and $1 for a case of 16 six-ounce jars, or about two cents for a two-ounce jar and six cents for a six-ounce jar. Nestle acted earlier this week. Today's action was only the second change this year and negated a cent an ounce increase in February in the price of instant.

Coffee in vacuum-packed tins, on the other hand, has gone up several times this year for a net increase of 14 cents a pound. The most recent jump was three cents late in August.

Mother Held As Boy, 10, Is Shot To Death

FORT MYERS, Fla., Sept. 21 (AP)—A 10-year-old boy died this morning of bullet wounds and police are holding his mother on an open charge for questioning.

Stanley Frederick Musick, died about two hours after he was shot. Police Chief Burl Underhill said Mrs. Julia Musick, 29, a telephone company operator, told police at her two-room apartment the boy had shot himself and she fired three more bullets into his body to end his suffering. Earlier she had related to a friend she did all the shooting.

The officer added these details: Two notes addressed to relatives were to the effect that the boy, a Cub Scout and fourth-grade student, was slow in school and wanted to die. She wrote that no one loved her or her son.

Monthly draft calls started rising in May, jumping to 12,000 from the 6,000 rate earlier in the year.

New Chevrolet To Cost More

DETROIT, Sept. 21 (AP)—Chevrolet's entirely new, lower and longer 1957 models will be introduced on Oct. 19, with several major engineering advances and probably higher price tags.

This was disclosed today by Edward N. Cole, general manager, at a private preview for press, radio, television and trade press representatives at nearby General Motors technical center.

The probable price advances and specific details of the new cars were withheld pending their formal introduction next month. The Chevrolet preview followed by one day the press showing of Ford Division's new line. Ford has announced a price increase averaging $53 at the wholesale level and around $78 at the retail point.

The intensity of the Chevrolet-Ford rivalry is underscored by the speed with which both companies are making the switchover to new models. Ford completed its 1956 model run a couple of weeks ago and already has built more than 25,000 of its 1957 models; Chevrolet completed its 1956 model output a week ago and will be in assembly line production of 1957 models on Oct. 1.

Refuses To Sign Wrong Form

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Sept. 21 (AP)—Testifying in county court yesterday, Manuel Garza said after his arrest on a charge of driving while intoxicated he was taken to a hospital by police for a blood test. Someone gave him a release to sign, giving his consent for the test to be made.

Garza insisted on reading the form before signing it. The paper was a consent for amputation of a limb.

After that, Garza said, he wasn't signing anything.

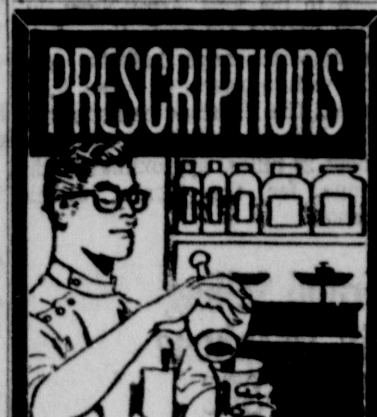

Patrolmen Gordon Hewlett and Bill Eppard sheepishly admitted on the stand that the wrong form inadvertently had been given Garza.

The jury returned a verdict of innocent.

M'Keldin Hits Intolerance In Nation's Acts

LEONARDTOWN, Sept. 21 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today attacked intellectual intolerance in America—"the theory that it is wrong even to think thoughts not approved by the majority."

The governor made his remarks while crowning the "queen of tolerance" at the opening of the 3-day St. Mary's County Fair. She is Miss Pat Napier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Val Madsen of Town Creek Manor.

"There is a certain irony if the fact that after 300 years we are still celebrating the establishment here at St. Mary's of the rule of reason in religious affairs," McKeldin said.

"I think we may fairly claim that religious tolerance is firmly and permanently fixed in the American way of life," he said, but "it cannot be denied that (tolerance) has suffered losses in our political, our economic and, strange to say, in our intellectual life."

"It is the recent revival of intellectual intolerance that gives thoughtful Americans real reason to worry," he said. "It is true that it is no new thing. We have always had people who were angered by the introduction of any new idea."

"But in the past the great strength of such movements has been supplied by the ignorant, led . . . always by people who enjoyed neither the confidence nor the respect of Americans with much common sense."

"Today we face a different situation," McKeldin said. "Today we find men who are neither dullards, demagogues nor fanatics advocating measures that are definitely born of intellectual intolerance. We find men with a reputation for high intelligence suggesting that the control of opinion is not merely possible, but a legitimate function of the state."

"This is not a matter of partisan politics," he said. "If one party has its McCarrans, the other has its McCarrans."

Intellectual intolerance, the governor said, accounted for "our more extreme security laws—since somewhat corrected by the Supreme Court—that barred citizens from government employment even in positions that had nothing to do with national security."

Butler Says Mahoney Dense On Tax Laws

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Sen. Butler said tonight his Democratic opponent for the U.S. Senate, George P. Mahoney, is "totally devoid of any understanding of our tax laws or of needed revisions to them."

"Furthermore," Butler said in a statement issued by his campaign headquarters here, Mahoney "reveals that he knows little or nothing about the problems of small business generally."

Butler referred to a statement Mahoney made in Ocean City Tuesday in which he gave as an example of Democratic pledges for positive action, "a proposal for a graduated corporate income tax, so that small business corporations 'won't have to be sold when the head of a family dies.'"

Butler said "this kind of hop, skip and jump reasoning on the part of my opponent proves him woefully ignorant of both our tax laws and the needs of small business. There is little or no conceivable relation between a graduated corporate income tax and the ability of the survivors of the deceased to hold on to the business."

Tells Of Washington
Watt presented an account of current developments in the river basin, particularly the area near Washington.

He said the predicted population of the greater Washington area is 2,400,000 in 1965, and 3,000,000 in 1980.

He added that these will all be water users, and he called for more attention to upstream planning for better use of land for producing water.

Arnold, as a recreationist, said he was not speaking for his council, but as an individual. He said the wild areas in the river basin should be kept as wild as possible.

He pointed out that in Thursday's discussions, there was considerable talk concerning recreation for the masses. But, Arnold added, he felt that in providing for the "day-users" planners are losing sight of other groups, such as hikers, bird watchers, canoeists, fishermen who do not wish to suffer with modern improvements of wild areas.

Working On Plan

Weber pointed out that Col. Ray Adams, chief of the Corps of Army Engineers, Washington District, has announced the engineers' advisory committee is working on a new overall development plan for the basin.

At noon, Bernard Frank, chairman of the wildlife and recreation committee of the commission, asked the commission to hire a full-time staff employee to help coordinate the work of the respective committees of the river body. He pointed out that there is not enough volunteer labor from busy state and governmental officials and representatives from industry to get this work coordinated.

HAIR EXPERT HERE SUNDAY

Expert Here to Reveal Scientific Principle of Hair Loss and Growth

Miami, Fla.—New home treatment methods for growing thicker hair—and preventing baldness—will be demonstrated in Cumberland this Sunday only, September 23.

Trichologist P. J. Douglas, of the nationally famous Harlow Hair Experts will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 2 P. M. to 9 P. M. at the Hotel Fort Cumberland.

25 Years Experience

The Harlow formulae for the treatment of unhealthy scalp conditions were developed by the Harlow Office through 25 years of careful research and study. The processes, proven so beneficial to thousands of men and women handicapped by gradual hair loss has been, until recently, available only in the Harlow Office.

In announcing that this treatment is now available for home use, Harlow summarized his success with these thousands of hair-worried men and women in one, simple, matter-of-fact statement: "The healthy scalp grows healthy hair—naturally!"

"This is so obvious that you must rule out practically all the common opinions made by the pseudo-hair experts about baldness."

"For instance, most people are convinced that baldness is hereditary 'runs in the family' so to speak. Yet I've never heard anyone argue that you can inherit an unhealthy scalp. So you can't very well inherit baldness, can you?"

Baldness Due to Age?

"Another common idea," says Harlow, "is that a man just naturally loses his hair as he gets older. Now why should he? Men's hair naturally grows faster between the ages 35 and 60."

Harlow has an impressive record to confirm these conclusions. More than 98% of those Harlow treats are satisfied, and almost every city in the U. S., Latin America, Mexico and Cuba numbers several satisfied Harlow clients.

Something Can Be Done

"You've also heard men say that nothing can be done to stop hair loss once it starts. Why not? It's just a matter of correcting an unhealthy scalp condition and trading bad habits for good habits."

"Not one male scalp in a hundred is actually healthy," Harlow observes.

Reilly, Kenny To Head Demo Campaign Here

The Allegany County Democratic Committee has selected chairmen for the November campaign.

Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the committee, said Simon F. Reilly, local attorney, will serve along with James J. Kenny, Westport grocer, as co-chairmen of the campaign.

Significantly, he noted that Reilly was Allegany County campaign manager for Millard E. Tydings, the Democratic nominee for U.S. Senate who was forced to withdraw from the race because of illness.

Kenny, it was noted, was county campaign manager for George P. Mahoney, who succeeded Tydings as the senatorial nominee.

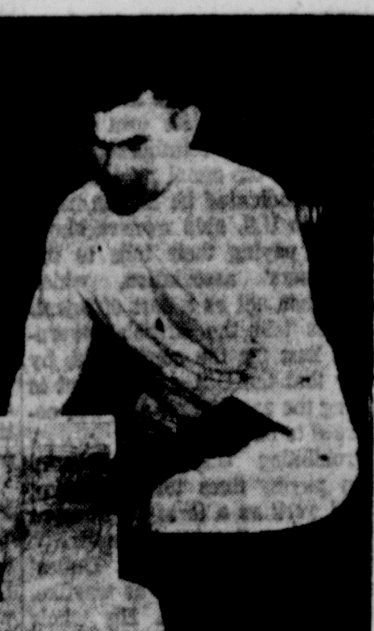

This is part of the current move in the Democratic Party in Maryland to create harmony after the primary fights are over, Finan declared.

An all-out fight will be directed in behalf of the Democratic Party's candidates, Stevenson, Kefauver, Mahoney and John R. Foley, who is running for election to Congress from the Sixth Maryland District.

The committee will open headquarters at its familiar location for the past several campaigns, the first floor of the Algonquin Hotel.

"If your scalp ached when it was in bad condition—as teeth do—there wouldn't be 12 million balding men in the U. S."

Free Examination

"Our first problem when you come in for a free examination is to determine the exact condition of your scalp," Harlow explained.

"On the basis of this thorough analysis I prepare a home treatment to correct your own particular scalp disorder, from which only you will obtain the maximum benefits."

E. H. Martin, Client L-117, before Harlow treatment.

E. H. Martin 10 months after Harlow treatment.

"There is no 'cure-all' for every scalp disorder. My treatment and care is adapted to each individual case."

Your progress is supervised at regular intervals by a Harlow trichologist and you mail regular report to the Harlow Office to keep us accurately informed of your progress.

Guaranteed Satisfaction

"To overcome the average man's skepticism we offer a full 30-DAY GUARANTEE," says Harlow.

"You must be satisfied with the visible benefits by the end of 30 days or all money will be refunded."

Trichologist P. J. Douglas will be in Cumberland on Sunday only, September 23, so make plans to see him then.

Call, or ask at the desk, at Hotel Fort Cumberland for Trichologist P. J. Douglas' room number, then visit him between 2 P. M. and 9 P. M. for a free examination.

Remember, there's no obligation for this personal examination. You need no appointment but can make one if you prefer.

Sandra Deremer Becomes Bride Of Edward Yacenech

Miss Sandra Kay Deremer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Deremer, Shade's Lane, became the bride of J. Edward Yacenech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Yacenech, Grafton, W. Va., last evening.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in First Methodist Church at 7 o'clock, with Rev. Everett W. Culp officiating, assisted by Rev. William James Elliott, Washington.

The bridal party includes Mrs. Marjorie Chambers, matron of honor; Mrs. Louis Metz, Miss Mary Ellen Shaw, Miss Grace Stafford, Miss Barbara Weaver, bridesmaids; Paula Deremer and Linda Brill, junior bridesmaids. Alex Chambers served as best man, while Brook Atkinson, Robert Reed, Douglas Golladay and Harold Hershberger were the ushers.

Mrs. W. E. Lawyer presented an organ recital before the ceremony and played the traditional wedding march from the opera Lohengrin, and Mendelssohn's recessional. She also accompanied Marshall Sowers, who sang "Because," "O Promise Me," and "Ich Liebe Dich."

The bride was attired in a gown of Rosepoint lace over satin and tulle, fashioned with a scooped out neckline, outlined in sequin and pearls. The long pointed lace sleeves buttoned to the elbow, and the full skirt ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip-length veil of French silk illusion was held by a sequin hat with fanged edge of seed pearls. Completing her costume, she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Chambers' heavenly blue Chantilly lace gown over taffeta, was made like the bride's, except it had three-quarter-length sleeves. Her lace and net headress was held by a blue tiara and she carried a nosegay of summer flowers, backed with blue tulle and lace. The bridesmaids wore organdy dresses over taffeta, fashioned with empire bodice and very full skirt. With them they wore small satin tiaras and carried nosegays of summer flowers. The junior bridesmaids also were in organdy over taffeta. Their frocks were made with puffed sleeves, scooped neckline and full skirts. They also had satin tiaras and nosegays of summer flowers. Paula was in heavenly blue and Linda, rosebud pink.

Mrs. Deremer chose a summer print of avocado, yellow and white for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore avocado and white accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

The bride attended Fort Hill High School and Catherman's Business School. She was employed by Aetna Finance Company. The bridegroom attended Grafton High School and the Morgan Vocational School. He is employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Nave's Dining Room, with the bridal motif carried out in the decorations and the four-tiered wedding cake on glass separators, trimmed in pink and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

For their wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a beige knit ribbon suit with brown accessories and her corsage of sweetheart roses. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Yacenech will reside in Bowling Green.

This annual week, sponsored throughout the United States by the National Federation of BPW Clubs, is set aside to pay tribute to women in business and professions. It was originated at the Oakland Convention in 1927, and every year since then, has been opened with a message from the President of the United States. The purpose of the celebration is to give every member of the BPW Club the opportunity to carry out, in her own area of influence, the second of the federation's objectives, "to promote the interest of business and professional women" and to dramatize women's contribution to the economic, social and political life of the community, state, nation and the world. Left to right are Mrs. Thelma Swartzwelder, first vice president; Miss Gerardine Pritchard, second vice president; Mrs. Gladys K. FRIENDLY

TABERNACLES

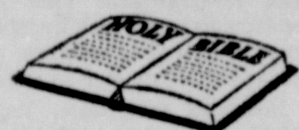

'The author of the 84th Psalm was a great lover of the earthly habitations of God. The temples, shrines and holy places of Israel were his chief delight. He found them friendly, inviting and comforting to his soul.

In one of his moments of spiritual ecstasy he broke forth in song: "How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!" he sang. "My soul longeth, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord."

There are millions today who look upon God's earthly houses — the churches of the land — in much the same way. They are glad when the church hour comes and they can mingle with others in worship and spiritual fellowship.

The church around the corner or over in the next block is not a cold and formal place, once you come to know it. It breathes friendliness and sympathy. It comforts and inspires and points the way to a kind and loving God.

Come to Church on Sunday and enjoy the fellowship of God's people.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A breakdown of the schools follows which shows this year's figures as compared with last year:

Baker 105-105; Burch 37-44; Peru 60-57; Wilkins 10-13; Wardensville 12-year school 344-360; Vaughn 32-36; Moorefield Graded School 373-356; Moorefield High School 421-438; Toll Gate 86-86; Saunders 12-year school 83-104; Old Fields 82-80; Mathias 12-year school 361-332 (includes Cullers which is now closed); Ketterman 11-11; Pleasant Dale 20-20; Oak Dale 61-69; Luxembourg 18-18; Lost City 50-52; Frosty Hollow 21-17; Durgon 55-55; Dover 40-42 and Cider 11-15.

by Major Fauss, and James H. Evans, who also was promoted to captain. Other officers not in the picture who were promoted to captain include Ralph F. Frantz, Joseph W. McGreevy, Ellsworth V. Rosenmarkle and James T. Gaffney. Mosby Rogers was promoted to first lieutenant.

Shaft Sewage Complaint Filed

A letter was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from Raymond Kamauf, secretary of the Shaft Volunteer Fire Company, in which he asks the county to do something about the sewage problem in Georges Creek in that community.

Kamauf stated that the stream is in an unhealthy condition and during warm weather exudes a strong odor. He charges that Frostburg dumps its sewage into the stream.

The commissioners said the matter would have to be taken up with the Allegany County Health Department, which has jurisdiction over sanitation problems.

A second letter was received from Leon Kruth, chairman of the LaVale Court Civic Improvement for recent improvements to the road in that area.

Kruth said the dust problem has been reduced and water drainage is good. He asked if the county would consider hardsurfacing the roadway. No action was taken on the request.

Jockey Is Hospitalized After Horse Bolts

A 21-year-old apprentice jockey suffered a possible shoulder fracture when thrown from a horse yesterday at Fairgo.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital was Robert Corle, of Imler, Pa., who had been scheduled to ride Mis Duckie in the fourth race of yesterday's card. His condition is listed as "fair."

Polish Mountain Road Changes Cited In Plans By SRC

The State Roads Commission has sent the Allegany County Board of Commissioners prints of the semi-final plans for the relocation of U. S. Route 40 on the west slope of Polish Mountain.

Clarence W. Clawson, engineer of road design for the SRC, stated that the plans will indicate the effect on county roads which intersect with U. S. 40 in that section. The plans will show the alignment, grade and drainage of typical sections of the location of county roads. Final plans concerning the treatment of county roads affected by the project will be sent to the county board, Clawson said.

The SRC has announced that bids for the Polish Mountain project will be advertised October 23.

PTA Is Favoring Zoning In LaVale

The Parkside School PTA voted to inform members of the Allegany County Delegation to the General Assembly that it is in favor of zoning for the LaVale Sanitary District.

The action followed an explanation of the public zoning law by Attorney Harry Kauffman.

Members also voted to meet every other month on a year's trial basis and it was announced that children of the school will begin selling magazine subscriptions October 1, with proceeds to be used to buy school equipment.

Elected vice president of the PTA was Allan Twigg who replaces George Carney, resigned. Other officers are Merle Zembower, president; Mrs. William Claus, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Kuykendall, treasurer.

'Spacemen' Probe Magnetic Field

"Spacemen" took to the air the other day at Hanscom Field, Mass., and the event was accorded little space in the press. No big headlines. Merely a matter-of-fact news story.

Of course, these pioneer "spacemen" will not attempt to fly to Mars or the moon, but their three-month trip around the world, in which they will fly an estimated 90,000 miles, is considered one of the necessary preliminaries to provide data to aid in launching America's planned man-made moon—either that or it is expected to yield information valuable in guided missile research. Air Force scientists did not reveal which.

Scientists and a crew from the Strategic Air Command's 2nd Air Force will spend three months circling the earth in a four-engined KC-97, probing the magnetic field which extends for thousands of miles into space. The probing will be done from an altitude of about 18,000 feet, though.

It all seems a little complicated — as what doesn't these days — but a news account of the expedition discloses that the craft has 10 men aboard and will airlift a 1,500 pound cosmic ray monitor around the world. A C-124 Globemaster leapfrogs ahead of the big craft, with an extra crew, supplies and equipment of all types.

After stopping at McDill Air Force Base, Fla., the expedition heads for South America, Africa, Asia and Australia, crosses the Pacific to the U. S. and Tampa. The expedition will criss-cross the equator to measure cosmic radiation and attempt to learn whether the earth's magnetic field at high levels differs from that deduced from ground level data.

The exploration is the brainchild of two University of Chicago physicists, Dr. John A. Simpson and Pete Myer of the Enrico Fermi Institute for Nuclear Studies.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Part Time Only

The whole purpose of a presidential campaign is to have a public debate on public issues, but calling the President a part-time president and saying that he plays the Army game of passing the buck, is not a debate on any great public issue.

All presidents work part time. A competent manager knows how to divide the work, supervise the staff, and see that things get done without doing everything himself. Woodrow Wilson, when he conducted a war, associated to himself quite a number of competent and wise men who took some of the load off his shoulders. Among them were Colonel Edward House, Herbert Hoover, and Bernard Baruch. Franklin D. Roosevelt was so trusting of Harry Hopkins that he moved him into the White House where Hopkins lived for a period. And there was Robert Sherwood and Sam Rosenman and Ben Cohen and at one time, Tommy Corcoran.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, because of the crippling effect of his polio, could not engage in much physical activity but he had a way of bringing together argufying personalities of an evening and also those who were in the lower forms of art, such as motion picture personalities, particularly comedians. Nobody ever kept a time check on Roosevelt; apparently a time check is being kept on Dwight D. Eisenhower.

If playing golf is a form of wickedness on the part of a president, it, at any rate, is designed to keep him physically fit. Theodore Roosevelt, who believed in the strenuous life, played tennis rather than golf, and the country was much amused by what was called his "tennis cabinet." William Howard Taft was a golfer, but it did him no good because he remained overweight. Nevertheless, he lived to an old age and his mind was always keen and after leaving the presidency, he was chief-justice of the United States Supreme Court.

I always admired President Taft for being overweight, which proved that he knew good food and had happy thoughts. At any rate, he was a great reader and his family, children and grandchildren, were scholarly and some have a very keen sense of humor, particularly his grandson who is the American ambassador to Ireland. I do not know whether Harry Truman punched the time clock when he was President. He seems to have stood the ordeal well and has survived to give everybody hell. Harry Truman has an advantage over Ike Eisenhower in his sharp sense of humor, of raw, raucous humor, the kind that one used to find in the comic books before they went in for horrors. Also he and his biographers make claim that he is a great student of history of which there has been very little evidence in his writings or his speeches.

The Democrats are making a tactical blunder, it would seem to me, in trying to attack Eisenhower's stature. That will do them very little good because should this become a fly-swatting campaign, there is much that can be said on the other side that would not make pleasant listening. The only perfect politician I ever knew was Robert A. Taft and he died young. And Taft would never speak ill of any man. I recall that when Eisenhower was beating him at the Chicago Convention and a loud speaker shrieked beneath Taft's window, "Thou Shalt Not Steal," he said to me that he was sure Eisenhower knew nothing of this vulgarity. He liked to think well of all men and he even spoke favorably to me of Wayne Morse and Joe McCarthy, both of whom were giving him a bad time.

The point is that there is not too much time and the country would like to hear the pros and cons of important issues, such as the inflation, continued high taxes, the enormous national debt, the foreign policy, what we plan to do about Red China, etc., etc. It will take many speeches on both sides to cover all these issues and if all we are to listen to is claptrap about part-time presidents, most of us will turn off the television as some of us do when the female announcers try to sell us cosmetics. And maybe, if there is no debate and no inspiration, plenty of people will stay home on Election Day. That is what happened in Maine.

'Must Be The Wrong Kind Of Oil'

Adlai May Win If Republicans Remain Apathetic

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—More and more people who know politics from the inside are beginning to speak of "a close election" for the presidency. A few are saying privately with a certain degree of confidence that Adlai Stevenson will be elected.

Some of this talk is being erroneously explained as the usual attempt to scare Republican party workers into action, but a good deal is based on early reports of how effectively the Democrats are registering an increased vote over previous years in the big states.

Democrats Making Gains

Unquestionably the facts about the Maine election are beginning to seep in and, the more they are examined, the more startling they seem to Republican managers. Thus, in the First and Second Congressional district in Maine, where the Democrats won one seat and nearly won the other, there are 11 cities and in these the total Republican vote over 1954 showed a net gain of 196, whereas the Democrats made a net gain of 18,215. In the City of Portland, for example, the Republican gain was 582, while the Democratic party's gain was 5,004.

It has been argued that the strength of the popular Democratic governor who was re-elected overflowed into the congressional races, but the real answer probably is that better organization work won.

Maine, however, is not an isolated case. The same kind of reports are coming in from other parts of the country — that the Democrats are getting registered a large number of persons who haven't been in the habit of voting regularly.

The big news of this 1956 campaign, therefore, is already visible — it's apathy on the Republican side and intensive organization on the Democratic side.

Many observers who take a look at the big majorities piled up by General Eisenhower in 1952 are inclined to scoff at the idea that he can be defeated this time. It is theoretically true that, when times are good, the party in power benefits but there's one important proviso. It's that the party in power get out its vote and also keep pace with the increases in voting strength achieved by the opposition. Paper majorities of the past are meaningless when there is apathy.

Possible Electoral Table

How could Adlai Stevenson be elected — and by what combination of electoral votes? Assuming that the first reports of better organization and intensive work on registering Democrats in unprecedented numbers turn out to be true in the pivotal states, here is an electoral table which shows that even if Ike wins such states as New York, Ohio, Indiana, New Jersey and California, Stevenson could still be elected:

Ala.	11	Minn.	11
Ariz.	4	Miss.	8
Ark.	8	Mo.	13
Del.	3	N. C.	14
Fla.	10	Okl.	8
Ga.	12	Penn.	32
Ill.	27	R. I.	4
Ky.	10	Tenn.	11

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

Do you follow any particular diet? If so, do you think it is an aid to longevity? Anyway, what is the diet of a man who has most anything he wants to eat at no cost to himself. That is, it is the diet of Albert Basser, headwaiter of the world famous Maxim's of Paris. Monsieur Basser, who is 74, adheres to the following: Breakfast—hot water and lemon juice. Dinner—grapefruit half, mutton or beef (no sauce), vegetable salad, cheese, black coffee. Supper—soup, cold meat, salad, pineapple.

GET IT RIGHT

Note it claimed that General Sherman never said, "War is hell." He certainly did. In an address at the GAR convention at Columbus, Ohio, August 11, 1880, Sherman said, "There is many a boy here today who looks on war as all glory, but, boys, it is all hell. You can bear this warning voice to generations yet to come. I look upon war with horror."

TWINS

No doubt you know that twins don't always have the same birthday. One could be born today, and the other tomorrow. In England recently twins were born 12 days apart. I once heard of twins who were born seven days apart and in different cities!

SIDELIGHTS

Seven out of 10 phonograph recordings are purchased by teenagers. Keep that in mind if you are considering going into the recording business. Both the policy and the name of the old Larue Restaurant in Paris have been changed. It is now a quick lunch cafe known as Queenie's!

HOURLASS FIGURE

Kathy Barr is referred to as "the girl with the hourglass chas-sis." Kathy's measurements are 38-24-36. To have an "hourglass figure" a woman should have a waist measuring 21 inches or less. So, if Kathy wants to live up to her name, she will have to reduce a little. Throwing a handful of confetti into the air and picking it up piece by piece is a good exercise for waist measurement reduction.

HORSES AND WOMEN

Do women want to be dominated by their husbands? Or does the average wife want to rule the roost? That is a question constantly discussed. According to our horses and women experts, the average wife welcomes a degree of domination. She wants to have her say in the management of the household. But doesn't want the last word. She wants a man who will make decisions and take responsibility. If you are contemplating matrimony, young fellow, keep that in mind.

Teddy Roosevelt Helped Rid New York Of Quacks

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A story was told recently about how Teddy Roosevelt, while police commissioner of New York City, helped rid the city of quacks. New York was overrun with pseudo-physicians and other charlatans who were fleecing the public of millions of dollars annually.

The local medical society was unable to defray the cost of a first class investigation and Roosevelt arranged for Dr. Maurice J. Lewi to see the right people. Dr. Lewi, who was secretary of the New York State Board of Examiners at that time, tells the story in a recent issue of the New York State Journal of Medicine.

Dr. Lewi talked to "Little Judge" McMahon, who had jurisdiction over such cases and also was president of the Democratic club. The magistrate listened intently and agreed the situation was a disgrace to the fair name of New York.

But many of the violators were members of and contributed to the political clubs in the locality of their offices and some were regarded as "regulars". The situation appeared hopeless until Dr. Lewi remembered that the judge had been married recently and asked him what he would do if his wife got sick suddenly.

Suppose, instead of calling the family physician, he decided to ask the man across the street who displayed a doctor's shingle. "You rush to his office, rouse him, and he responds but your wife dies before daylight. Suppose further that after the funeral you learn that this 'doctor' is a pretender. How would you feel?"

"I would kill the —!" the judge said.

This conversation set McMahon to thinking. He agreed that the board of magistrates would have to be more severe until the quacks were driven out of the community. Dr. Lewi then went to Commissioner Roosevelt who—a man of action always—devised a plan whereby every one of the illegitimate practitioners fled the city or was arrested.

The sergeants called in their policemen at 5 a.m. and instructed each to note the name and address

Jerusalem Now City Of Suspicion When It Should Be City Of Peace

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's note: Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his grandson, Drew Arnold, written from Israel.)

JERUSALEM — The stars seem closer to the earth over the Holy Land than anywhere else in the world. The palm trees and the poplar trees that the Moslems say "talk with God" reach up until they seem to touch the stars. And the stars are brighter. You can understand why they outshone themselves over Bethlehem 1956 years ago . . . Out under the stars, as you look across the city of Jerusalem, is the wall of the Old City, cutting Jerusalem in two parts—one Arab, one Jewish—two parts that hate each other. Behind that wall are mosques and churches. The Lutheran church, in Arab territory, is near the Holy Sepulchre where Christ was buried. The Garden of Gethsemane and the Mount of Olives are just beyond. You can see them, vague and shadowy under the moonlight, and you can hear the church bells ring and the dogs bark in the stillness of the night. Those are the only sounds of life that come from behind that ancient wall . . . Arab guards pace the wall. Machine guns look down into the new city of Jerusalem to make sure no man approaches, to keep the iron curtain between the new and the old, between Jew and Arab.

Isolated Mt. Scopus

Just alongside the Mount of Olives on Mount Scopus is the beautiful Hadassah Hospital; also the medical school of Hebrew University and the nurses home—all empty. New, modern, they represent the best in medical science that money can buy. But no patients are in their beds, no nurses walk their halls, no medical students study in their classrooms. Only a handful of janitors live in the buildings, replaced every two weeks by a United Nations truce team which passes Arab sentries to bring supplies and replacements . . . The reason: The buildings, though still in Israel, are cut off by a little strip of Arab territory—part of the zig-zag border which wanders back and forth between Israel and Jordan . . . Beyond that little strip the Arabs will let no one pass. So Hadassah Hospital and the medical university remain unused and empty.

Life Goes On

In the rest of Jerusalem life goes on. There's no real worry on the Jewish side of the city, and no real worry on the Arab side. The armed truce is taken as a matter of course . . . Most people would like to get rid of the suspicion and hate. Said the chief rabbi of Israel, Isaac Herzog, when I called at his home: "We should give the hospital on Mount Scopus to the Arabs for their people as a gesture of friendship. We could supply the medicine and the doctors and run it for the Arabs as our contribution to peace." . . . The chief rabbi is a delightful old gentleman who used to be chief rabbi of Dublin.

He speaks Hebrew with such an Irish accent that his people call him the Irishman of Jerusalem . . . Unfortunately, his views on the hospital were not reciprocated by Hadassah. They have always admitted Arab patients, and would continue to do so, but said they would not let Arabs participate in its operation.

Haven For Tourists

In the rest of Israel, life also proceeds. Border patrols and border skirmishes are deplored, but taken as a matter of course. Israelis work hard and relax hard. The hotels on weekends are crowded. The Sharon Hotel near Tel Aviv, the King David in Jerusalem, many others are as modern and beautiful as any in the U. S. A. . . . Israel, with its fascinating Biblical history, is a tourists' paradise, no matter what your religion. And as far as the Jews are concerned, all religions are welcome. Only religious problem Israel has is with its own extreme Orthodox who stone automobiles that dare drive through the extreme Orthodox quarter on Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath. They also oppose Reformed synagogues or schools in Israel. But Prime Minister Ben-Gurion has overruled them; so also has the Jerusalem Municipal Council . . . In Jerusalem flourishes one of the biggest YMCAs in the world. Its staff is largely Christian Arab, but the young men who cram the swimming pool, reading rooms, and recreation center of the Young Men's Christian Association are 90 per cent Jewish . . . Thus in ancient Jerusalem, the city of peace, Christians, Jews and Arabs live up to Jerusalem's name—on the Israeli side of the Old Wall. Doubtless they would do so on both sides if it weren't for Arab leaders who keep hate propaganda alive.

A Mixed Blessing

This Arab opposition to Israel is described by some as a blessing. Rev. William Hull, Protestant missionary in Jerusalem, told me that without Arab opposition Israel might never have been welded together . . . This may be true. Certainly the constant menace of Arab invasion has helped pull together Israel's 70 nationalities . . . But to me Israel has more than that. It has behind it the memory of 6,000,000 Jews who died in the gas chambers of Hitler. It has behind it the determination that these Jews must not have died in vain. It has behind it great respect for human dignity, great respect for tolerance, for the other fellow's right to think as he pleases . . . It also has great respect for equality. When you sit down to lunch your chauffeur sits with you. He does this as a matter of course. There are no beggars in Israel, and little tipping. It's considered menial. This is a state founded by equals. It's also a state where the garage mechanic may be found during the noon hour reading philosophy.

Of course I wasn't around at that particular time, but I suspect that Israel has behind it the same drive and dedication and determination of the early American pioneers. (Copyright, 1956, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Think Through

By Brother Barnabas

They're telling around that the moon is made of green cheese—what do you think? A penny for your thoughts.

Your think and mine are the same and they are not worth a penny. They are a figment of somebody's imagination that has been spread so long and so thin that people half-believe it's so.

When a debatable issue is up for decision one can either side-step it or accept the challenge to think it through. The principle applies to politics, economics, internationalism, war, religion or what have you.

Think is a process of reasoning, identification and judgment. Your thought is the conclusion arrived at, and it may be final or tentative, positive or negative, its merit depending on the gray matter employed in the processing.

Disuse Doesn't Help

One may inherit his father's brains; but through disuse lose the power to think, and his ideas if he has any will flat out.

Maybe the old colored woman was right when she said "When you ain't got no education, yo' jus' got to use your brains."

If anyone has some good sound seasoned conclusions now is the time to bring them out of the mothballs and get them in operation.

Once upon a time a man of great power and wealth made happiness his goal in life, but it proved a wild-goose chase, and when he was old he said with the wisdom of a Solomon: "This is the end of the matter; all hath been heard; Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man" (Ecclesiastes 12:13).

There are many means of communication: telephone, telegraph, television, teletype, tell-a-woman, to mention a few. If all these lines are busy there are other avenues of expression.

There is the psychic phenomenon of, "Two souls with but a single thought; Two hearts that beat as one." Actions thereafter speak louder than words.

A soulful handclasp in a time of bereavement; a pump handle shake and a pat on the back of a pal who has just committed matrimony are meaningful gestures in which actions speak louder than words.

The Arched Eyebrow

Then there is the lifting of an eyebrow, the picking up and handing back to a beautiful girl the handkerchief she has inadvertently dropped, which may lead to the altar and change the course of history. The first thousand biscuits are the hardest.

A Montreal man has been charged with burying his new automobile and then reporting it "missing" to the insurance company. What is this—a wrong kind of hidden assets?

Then there is a transcendental plane of intercommunication which we know about but have not yet reduced to a science. It is supranational and borders on the lunatic fringe.

In the same category belong such phenomena as thought transference, mind reading, divination, telepathy, hypnotism.

You have an uncanny feeling that some one long absent and unexpected is on his way to see you. Time passes and your presentiment grows until you dress and coiffeur to welcome him; when, Lo and Behold! you look out and see him striding down the walk.

What did your wife say when you got home so late the other night? "Not a word. She just sat down at the piano and played, 'Tell Me the Old, Old Story.'"

There is a consensus especially among youth that if you wish for a thing vehemently enough you can have it. With this superstition many a lassie has slept with a piece of wedding cake under her pillow dreaming:

Starlight, starbright,
First star I see tonight,
Wish I may, wish I might,
I hope to see my true love
Before tomorrow night.

Half And Half

Later, her wish is fulfilled and one day complainingly she says: "Clarence, sometimes you appear absolutely effeminate. How do you account for it?" Says he: "I suppose it's hereditary; half my ancestors were males and the other half females."

And so the trouble begins that may end disastrously.

"How does it happen that you and Dinah have fallen out so early in your married life?" asked the judge.

"I'll tell you, judge," said Mose, "That gal overrecommended herself to me."

The greatest power one can wield and the most to be desired is control—self-control, moral control, persuasive control. "He that rules his spirit is greater than he that taketh a city" (Proverbs 16:32).

The office seeker wants your ballot. If he can get his thoughts into your brain they will fructify. His technique borders on hypnosis.

In 1941 Howard Klein hypnotized 12 out of a group of 14 in 30 seconds by talking to them over a microphone from another room.

Think it through before you allow yourself to be subjected to remote control, says

Night Music Pays $114.60, Highest Here In Six Years

29 Tickets Sold On 56-1 Shot, Double Returns $427.40 To 38

Hilton Saddles Two Winners; Three Tied In Jockeys' Race

A 7-year-old gray mare named Night Music, owned by John Curry and ridden by Bernard Hewitt, provided the biggest payoff on a $2 ticket in six years when she defeated Mary Godfrey in the five furlongs opening event yesterday on the ninth day of the Cumberland Fair Association's 12-day racing meet.

Twenty-nine tickets totaling $54 were bet on the nose of Night Music, who paid off at the odds of 6 to 1 and returned $114.60 for each $2 win pasted over. Bob Littleton, mutual manager, said that twenty-four $2 tickets and five $6 combination tickets were purchased on the winner. The combination ticket holders received $146.60.

It was the longest price paid on a winner at the local half mile since 1950 when Pawnee Bill returned $107. Yardie paid $102 the same year and Skippy Bill's price was $104.40 in 1952.

Night Music is trained by Elsie K. Morris who saddled her first winner here when Joe Cream scored in the second race on Tuesday.

Record price for a $2 win ticket was recorded in 1937—$161.80 on Lady's Favor.

Double Pays $427.40

Yesterday's daily double payoff also was a new high for the current session. Tara's Hall, Emilio Carrillo up, came home ahead of Sure Toss in the second number, and coupled with Music Hall as the 2-4 combination rewarded backers with $427.40 each. A total of 38 tickets were sold on the double.

Yesterday's double figures are the highest here since 1949 when Foxler and Little Hussy scored at $569.20 and Kapok and Silver Cloth returned $434.20.

Tara's Hall and Record Trip in the fifth chalked up their second wins of the meeting here. Record Trip, victor at Hagerstown and Timonium, whipped Stay Well by two lengths under the guidance of Jockey Joseph Snyder, who rode his eighth winner in nine days. The price on Record Trip was $5.20.

Don Has Mental Lapse

June Long's Hachief, making his fourth start here, was ridden to a 2 1/2 lengths win over Al's Best in the third, the first mile and a sixteenth race on the card. A mental lapse on the part of Jockey Donald Teague aboard Marriage Vow caused the backers of the latter to groan. As Marriage Vow went by the stands the first time, Teague, apparently mistaking the distance of the race, eased up his mount and the field passed him. Marriage Vow was about five lengths in front when Teague blundered and finished in 7th place. The jockey was booed after disappointing.

Trainer Robert B. Hilton saddled a pair of winners in Perturbed in the sixth and Cabo Blanco in the eighth and topped his total to three for the session, one back of Robert L. Gheen, the pacesetter.

Three Jockeys Tied

Willie Clark piloted Kenneth F. Santill: Perturbed to victory over Miss Tie for a payoff of $4.80 and threw the jockeys' race into a triple tie by booting home Cabo Blanco ($5.00) ahead of B. B. Mint and Henry S. H. in the finale. Willie, Joe Snyder and Charley Clark are setting the pace at the end of nine days with eight winning mounts each.

Perturbed and Cabo Blanco, incidentally, were the only favorites to register and the 23 winners in 72 races dropped the meet average to 31 per cent.

Other winners yesterday were Pick N' Choose in the fourth at $8.40, and Over Dover ($9.20) in the seventh.

Favorite Is Sixth

Rudolph B. Keyes' Over Dover, with Charley Clark up, defeated Archie Boy by two lengths as the favored Corny Miss finished sixth. Over Dover returned a $9.20 mutual.

The mutual handle was $160,792 which was $1,444 more than was wagered here on the ninth day in 1955. The meet total hit $1,585,443 or a gain of 7.7 per cent over $1,470,881 for the corresponding period a year ago.

The winners of these two matches play the finals in the afternoon for the championship.

Five teams remain in the men's doubles. Dorsey and Wesley Neville meet "Ish" Bernstein and "Boots" Sapp, the winner going to the finals.

Thomas' Two-Run Homer Decides

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21 (AP)—A two-run homer by Frank Thomas, his 23rd of the season, jolted Brooklyn's National League pennant drive tonight as the sixth place Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Dodgers 2-1. The loss trimmed Brooklyn's first place edge to a half game over Milwaukee, playing a night game with the Chicago Cubs.

With eight games remaining, the Dodgers now have an 88-58 record. The Braves were 88-59 with seven games left.

Thomas' long poke, clearing the left field wall, came with one out in the seventh, following a leadoff double by Bill Virdon—only the third hit allowed to that point by right-hander Sal Maglie.

Maglie, taking his fifth defeat in 16 decisions, had won six in a row and was 21-4 lifetime over the Bucs.

Ron Kline rode in on the homer for his 14th victory, against 16 defeats. The 24-year-old right-hander, who hadn't beaten the Dodgers in three previous decisions this year, gave eight hits, but stayed out of trouble except for the seventh, when the Brooks scored, and the eighth inning.

Gil Hodges' double, a pair of infield outs and Junior Gilliam's single to deep short scored the Dodger run.

Fairgo Facts

By C. V. BURNS

Harry J. Barton, general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association, yesterday announced that Monday has been designated as Ladies' Day at Fairgo and all ladies will be admitted free.

The Clifton W. White Memorial will be the feature race on today's program.

With good weather prevailing expectations are that the largest crowd of the meeting will view today's eight-race card.

The 12-day meeting draws to a close Tuesday.

Two claims were recorded yesterday at the local tracks.

Olivia F. Kent claimed Sure Toss, which finished second in the second race for $1,250 and L. E. Torreyson claimed Perturbed, winner of the sixth for $2,000.

Yesterday's double payoff of $427.40 caused many to ask what the all-time high is for the local track. It is $1,463.80 on Grape Vine and Vera M in 1942.

Stewart Plays Gunderson For Amateur Title

Indianapolis Site For Finals Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Tall, strawberry blonde Joanne Gunderson of Kirkland, Wash., the first junior golf champion ever to reach the final of a National Senior championship, and stubby Marlene Stewart, perennial Canadian champion, will meet tomorrow in the 36-hole final of the 56th USGA Women's Amateur golf championship.

Miss Gunderson, a 17-year-old high school senior with a swaying swing, conquered Mrs. Ann Casey Johnston, of Mason City, Iowa, 1 up, after seeing a three-hole lead evaporate on the back nine.

Miss Stewart, 22, a former British Women's champion, four-time Canadian titleholder and present U. S. Women's Intercollegiate champion, wiped out snub-nosed Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., 4 and 3.

Triandos Hits Two Homers As Orioles Defeat Nats, 7-3

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Gus Triandos hit two home runs and a single tonight to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a 7-3 victory over their neighborhood rivals, the Washington Senators.

Triandos' two homers, his 20th and 21st of the season, quickly removed Gus from a "goat" status into which he got himself by a boner in the second. The Baltimore catcher dropped the ball as Lyle Luttrell stole home for Washington's first run.

Triandos hit one of his homers in the second with none on. Next time up, in the fourth, he homered again and scored behind Tito Francona, who had singled. Triandos also singled and scored in the eighth.

Dick Williams hit a homer for Baltimore in the seventh.

Roy Sievers hit a two-run homer in Washington's ninth-inning uprising.

Homer Opener Is Set For 2 P. M. At Keyser

KEYSER, Sept. 21 — The Potomac State Catamounts went through a long scrimmage yesterday as their final rough work in preparation for their first home game of the season, against West Virginia Tech here Saturday. Various backfield combinations were used as well as numerous substitutions in the line. Coach Lough expressed the opinion that the Catamounts could present a strong starting line-up, but that they would be weakened greatly if they were forced to make many substitutions.

The Tech team lost to Hampden Sydney last week in a sea of mud and will be determined to get in the win column, while the Catamounts defeated Glenville and will be overconfident. Tech has much the heavier line but the backfields will weigh about the same. The kick-off will be at 2 o'clock Daylight Time, with Southern Conference officials, in charge.

Buemi Scores 3 TDs In 40 To 6 Triumph

OAKLAND, Sept. 21—West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romney scored one or more touchdowns in every period today and crushed Southern High School of Oakland in a Potomac Valley Conference game by the score of 40-6.

Charley Buemi accounted for three WVSD touchdowns while Larry Jones, Johnny Popovich and Gene Smith made one each. Popovich converted twice while passes from Buemi to Billy Trader and Popovich to Smith netted the other extra points.

Southern scored in the final quarter when Sanders recovered a WVSD fumble on the visitors' 18 and several plays later Deckman went over from the one.

Buemi's first score came on a dash from the 15 while Popovich hit center for eight. A pass interception and 55-yard run by Buemi produced the third six-pointer.

Jones went 11 yards for the third score after the Lions recovered a fumble on the Oakland 29. The Romney eleven connected on four straight passes, the final one, Buemi to Smith for 19 yards resulting in another td. In the final stanza, Buemi ran 35 yards to Southern's five and tallied on the next play. The lineups:

FRANKLIN, Sept. 21 — Coach Wes Abrams' Romney High Panthers launched their Potomac Valley Conference campaign today with a 27-12 victory here over the Panthers of Franklin High School.

Donald Hannas scored twice for the Hampshire Counties and Jim Hott and Paul Heavener had one touchdown each. Jerry Hannas accounted for two of the extra points and "Gib" Divens made the other conversion. Both of Franklin's six-pointers were made by Stanley Dahmer.

Dahmer put Franklin in front three minutes after the game got under way when he raced 42 yards to pay dirt. Romney snapped back and tied the score when Jim Hott bucked over a touchdown from the 4-yard mark.

Romney grabbed the lead in the second period on pass scoring play engineered by Jerry and Donald Hannas ate up the final 20 yards.

A pass, Jerry to Donald Hannas was good for 42 yards and another Romney score early in the final period. Then Dahmer registered a six-pointer for Franklin on a 30-yard gallop.

Jerry Hannas hit Paul Heavener with a pass and the latter went over from the nine for Romney's final tie.

Jerry Hannas, Dave Cessna and "Gib" Divens of Romney and Stan Dahmer and Rhudy of Franklin were the standout players.

Harry Temple, junior halfback of Franklin, suffered a shoulder separation in the final quarter and probably will be lost to the Panthers for the remainder of the season.

Oriole Player May Have Died In Plane Crash

Search Continues For Tom Gastall

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Tommy Gastall, promising young major league catcher with a recent flair for flying, apparently crashed to his death at sundown yesterday in a flight over Chesapeake Bay.

A widespread search of the area for his light plane has produced nothing. The only slim clue was was a cushion floating in the upper bay. The Coast Guard was trying to find out whether it was from his plane.

The 23-year-old Massachusetts athlete, a three-letter man at Boston College, signed with the Baltimore Orioles in June, 1955, for a reported bonus of $40,000. Six other major league clubs tried to sign him on the basis of his .350 batting average during his four years at Boston.

Gastall took off at 4:50 p.m. yesterday from Harbor Field, a small airport on the outskirts of the city. He landed at Easton, Md., about 40 miles to the southeast on the Eastern Shore across Chesapeake Bay.

The airport manager there, Stanley Manette, said he talked briefly with Gastall. He said that Gastall mentioned he was having trouble with the plane's canopy.

"He complained about his arm being sore and said that he had been holding his canopy down all during his flight," Manette said.

He took off for Baltimore between 6 and 6:15 p.m.

At 6:21 p.m., the control tower at Harbor Field heard this radio call:

"I'm going into the water!"

The message gave no indication where he was.

Swaps May Run At Chicago, Laurel

POMONA, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—Swaps, California's great colt, will make his next trip to the post in the $100,000 Hawthorne Cup Cup Oct. 13 if all goes well with his training, owner Rex C. Ellsworth said today.

Ellsworth said Swaps' recurring foot trouble is mending and he should be able to go in about eight days.

He will then be flown from Atlantic City, where the main stable is, to Chicago for the mile and one-quarter Hawthorne Cup.

Swaps will return east and point for the Washington, D.C. Invitational at Laurel Park Nov. 12.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21 (INS)—Just heard from Patti Paige in New York and she flies out here September 30 to test for the Helen Morgan role in "Why Was I Born." I can just see Patti in this part and hear her singing "My Bill" as Helen used to sing it. Patti will wear a wig darker than her own hair when she is tested by Mike Curtiz.

I had heard that negotiations were on for Jennifer Jones to play Helen, but dear, dear, dear—while I have nothing in the world against Jennifer and think she is a fine actress, I just can't see her as Helen, whom I knew very well. I do hope Patti gets the part. She is so very popular with her TV audiences and she is a fine little actress—and what a voice!

Imagine the excitement of Bill Haley when he read in the newspapers that Queen Elizabeth of England had requested a print of his Columbia picture, "Rock Around the Clock," to be sent to Balmoral Castle in Scotland. She wanted to find out about this rock and roll business of Haley and his Comets, that has so carried away her young subjects.

Bill immediately cabled the queen that he and his six musicians would love to fly to Scotland for a command performance. "Rock Around the Clock" has been causing riots in London, but I am told that the British haven't seen anything yet until they look at "Rhythm and Blues," which Haley's Comets are now making for Sam Katzman at Columbia.

I reached Bill Holden, who is on a personal appearance tour in the East, to find out what all the shootin' about that he's trying to get out of his Paramount commitment. Bill said long distance from New York:

"It isn't that I'm trying to get out of my Paramount agreement. It's just that they have submitted no property to me and time's running out. They have to either offer me a story or cancel. If they don't have anything, I'm free to make another picture for my own company, which I probably shall do." The picture which Bill is plugging in the East is "Toward the Unknown," his first independent, which is being released by Warner Brothers.

Two of the most enchanting little boys I have ever met, Patrick and Daniel Medrano, grandsons of the famous French clown Boum-Boum, paid me a visit. The two little boys, with their mother, have come to Hollywood to live. These children have grown up in show business. Their grandfather owned the famous Cirque Medrano in Montmartre. They told me very gravely they want to be in the movies. Patrick was here in 1951 and appeared in "Three Wishes for Jamie," presented at the Philharmonic Auditorium, and Daniel gives a most amusing imitation of the French star Fernandel.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Elaine Steinbeck and Zachary Scott will be grandparents in April. Their daughter Waverly (Mrs. Frank Skinner) has dated the stork.

Another stork date has been made by Dixie Bowers Tomberlin, the former Mrs. Bill Bowers. She expects her baby in November. Gary Cooper leaves "Love in the County Board Deplores Bypass Of U.S. Route 40

Second Resolution Also Adopted

A resolution denouncing the exclusion of that portion of U. S. Route 40 between Hancock and Washington, Pa. from the Interstate Highway System of the Federal Government as being "short-sighted and unjustified on any conceivable basis" was adopted yesterday by the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners.

The resolution was presented by Commissioner William H. Lemmer, board president. Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson moved for its adoption. Commissioner James Orr was absent.

Meanwhile, Fred B. Driscoll, member of the House of Delegates from Allegheny County and member of a Legislative Council committee appointed to revise the motor vehicle laws of the state, released a similar resolution which "vigorously protests" the omission from the Federal Interstate Highway System of the Hancock-Washington, Pa., segment of U. S. Route 40.

First National Road

The county commissioners' resolution recalled that 150 years ago, in 1806, the Congress of the United States appropriated funds for the construction of the first "National Road" along the shortest and best route between tide-water and the Ohio territory. This road ran from Cumberland to the Ohio River and was designated in the act of 1806 as "the Cumberland Road."

This resolution goes on to observe that in the past 150 years the National Road has expanded as U. S. Route 40 to span the entire country from coast to coast and has become the "Main Street of America."

In 1944 Congress passed a Federal Highway Act establishing an interstate highway system not to exceed 40,000 miles. In 1947 the U. S. Bureau of Roads allocated to Maryland 277 miles of roads but excluded from the approved mileage that section of Route 40 between Hancock and Washington, Pa., which included the original "Cumberland Road."

A Determined Fight

The county commissioners' resolution emphasizes that the present State Roads Commission is conducting a determined fight to rectify "the unjustifiable exclusion" from the Interstate Highway System of this section of Route 40 which crosses all of Allegheny County.

The SRC, the resolution notes, is supported in this fight by U. S. Senators J. Glenn Beall and John Marshall Butler of Maryland, Congressional and state representatives as well as scores of civic leaders in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Finally, the county commission supports their unqualified support to all efforts to obtain a reappraisal by the United States Bureau of Public Roads of that portion of its Interstate Highway Program which excludes the original "Cumberland Road" described as being "the original segment and once the sole highway exemplary of federal-state cooperation."

Copies of this resolution are to be sent to C. D. Curtis, chief, U. S. Bureau of Public Roads; Senators Beall and Butler, all seven Maryland Congressmen, Edward T. Miller, James P. S. Devereaux, Edward A. Garmatz, George H. Fallon, Richard E. Lankford, DeWitt S. Hyde and Samuel N. Friedel, the three members of the State Roads Commission, Robert O. Bonnell, John J. McMullen and Edgar T. Bennett, and J. William Hunt, editor of the Cumberland Sunday Times, who has done considerable historical research on the National Road.

Historic, Scenic Route

The legislative committee's resolution also called attention to the fact that the excluded section is one of the oldest, most historic and scenic portions of the entire national highway. It also notes that the 135 miles between Hancock and Washington, Pa., is the only portion of U. S. Route 40 between the Atlantic Coast and Denver which is not in the Interstate Highway System.

The committee's resolution urges that the Federal Bureau of Public Roads revise its designation of U. S. Route 40 so that the 135-mile portion may be included.

Copies of this resolution are being sent to Commissioner Curtis, Senator Beall, Congressman Fallon and Hyde, Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, SRC Chairman Bonnell, Senator Edward M. Martin of Pennsylvania and Senator Dennis Chavez of New Mexico.

Warm Welcome Is Planned For Area Railroad Fans

Local organizations are planning a warm welcome for the railroad enthusiasts who arrive here tomorrow on the last steam-powered passenger train of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The special train will be pulled by the B&O's No. 7600, one of the husky Mallet type locomotives which have been displaced by purring and economical Diesels.

Woman Who Took Sleeping Pills Improves

Mrs. Barbara Jean (Cook) Troup of Pittsburgh, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital Thursday night after apparently taking an overdose of sedative, has regained consciousness and is reported improving.

The 28-year-old former Lonaconing woman had been the object of a three-state search since she was reported missing Wednesday morning by her husband, Paul Troup. She registered Wednesday afternoon at the Algonquin Hotel here. Thursday night, hotel officials found her unconscious in her room. County authorities said no charges would be preferred. Mrs. Troup, according to hospital officials, was "not too cooperative" yesterday about telling them what she had taken. She reportedly bought sleeping pills the night before she left home.

Her husband told authorities she had been complaining of being unable to sleep, and that she had seen a physician.

On Wednesday at 4 p. m. the victim registered at the Algonquin Hotel as "Dorothy Wagner," of Pittsburgh. Later, the management became alarmed after she had not been seen all day Thursday.

Complying with a state law which specifies that a hotel room must be opened if a patron is not seen within a 24-hour period, hotel officials first placed a telephone call to her room, and when they received no answer they went to the room and found Mrs. Troup unconscious on the bed.

Police and a doctor were summoned, and Mrs. Troup was taken to the hospital. Officer E. Gordon Hite, who investigated with Officer James Mason, said the face of the woman seemed familiar. After checking Pittsburgh papers, he identified her from pictures of the missing housewife.

Mrs. Troup was reported to have left a letter in her hotel room, addressed to her husband and three children in which she said she "loved them very much."

Indiana Youths To Get Hearing

A preliminary hearing for two young boys who were brought back to Cumberland from Kingsport, Tenn. yesterday in connection with a robbery will be held either today or Monday.

They were questioned yesterday afternoon at the State's Attorney's office, and were lodged in Allegheny County jail last night.

The youths, both of Fort Wayne, Ind., were released by Tennessee authorities into the custody of City Detective George Furstenburg and Chief Deputy Edgar M. Lewis of the sheriff's office.

They are being held in connection with a holdup at a local service station.

Dairies Maintain Grade A Ratings

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, announced yesterday that Grade A ratings have been issued to all Cumberland area dairies.

Pasteurizing plants include Barton's Dairy, Dashiell's Dairy, Farmer's Dairy, Glen Savage Dairy, Happy Hills Dairy, Liberty Milk Company, Mason's Dairy, Turner's Dairy and Queen City Dairy.

One retail raw milk dealer, Frank Ravenscroft's Dairy, was included.

Dr. Frantz said the gradings of the milk was determined by the City Health Department for the grading period from January 1 to June 30, 1956.

Local residents signed up for Adult Education Courses this week at Fort Hill High School in a program being sponsored by the Allegheny County Board of Education. Shown above (left to right) are Mrs. Oliver Kidwell, Mrs. Daniel Carlowany, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. Donald Palmer and the registrar, J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education in county schools.

$25,685 Is Reported At First Meeting

Congratulations—and a word of warning—were issued yesterday as leaders of the Advance Gifts Committee of the Cumberland Community Chest Campaign held their first report meeting.

Edmund S. Burke, chairman, reported that subscriptions turned in at the luncheon meeting boosted the committee's total to $25,685, more than a third of the $73,000 goal set for the larger givers of the area.

Seventy-two of the 85 gifts reported, Burke said, are higher than last year's subscriptions. Increases ranged between 200 and 800 per cent.

$47,315 Is Needed

But the veteran Chest workers were warned to beware of overconfidence, which could wreck the campaign.

Subscriptions reported, workers were told, were in most cases the easiest to obtain, since they came from friends of the Chest who know the story of the nine local Red Feather agencies.

"We must not let down the boys and girls, men and women served by the United Fund," Burke said.

The Advance Gifts workers were told they must come up with $47,315 more within the next two weeks if the goal is to be met before the kickoff of the general campaign on October 9.

Report Meeting Set

Driving for early victory, Burke commented that the current Advance Gifts committee is the most enthusiastic group of Chest workers with whom he had worked.

"It's a good start," Lewis J. Ort, general campaign chairman, commented.

"The United Giving," Ort said, has definitely caught on and Cumberland has "raised its sights."

The second report meeting will be held Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

State Office Building Job Halts Again

Work on the new headquarters of the Maryland Department of Employment Security here has been stopped again.

A spokesman for the Merchandise Mart, Inc., said the job was closed down Tuesday for further study of the location by the Maryland State Roads Commission.

Work on the $38,400 building was halted some weeks ago by the SRC because the front of the structure would be in the path of one of the feeder streets for the Cumberland Thruway.

Work was resumed by the John S. Cook contracting firm this Monday after the foundation lines set 12.6 feet back on Mechanic Street and 14.6 on Howard Street, were in accordance with stakes set for the SRC.

The next day, the job was shut down for the second time at the request of the State Roads Commission.

It is understood that current plans for a ramp connection to the Thruway would take most of the front of the site on which the building is being erected.

The Merchandise Mart official said the firm is cooperating with the State Roads Commission in the location problem.

Pa. Minister Is Victim Of Shooting

A Cessna, Pa. minister, Rev. Louis M. King, 51, who was accidentally shot Wednesday afternoon at his home, will be buried this afternoon at Silver Run (Md.) Cemetery.

He was pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church in that community. Rev. King died in Bedford County Memorial Hospital an hour after the shooting. Death was caused by a .22 calibre rifle wound in his right temple.

Mrs. Bertha King, wife of the minister, said her husband went for his rifle to kill a squirrel which had been bothering them for some time.

She told Dr. J. H. Knisely, Bedford County coroner, she was on the other side of the house when she heard a shot and heard her husband say, "No luck."

Another shot followed and then Mrs. King found her husband slumped on the lawn. Corner Knisely termed the death accidental.

A native of Littlestown, Adams County, Rev. King went to Bedford County in 1950 to serve the Dunning Creek charges at Cessna, Fishertown and Imbertown.

Ralph R. Brant Collapses, Dies While At Work

A 55-year-old employee of the Queen City Brewing Company, who was stricken while at work yesterday afternoon, was pronounced dead on arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital.

The victim was Ralph Randolph Brant, of 414 Hill Street, who was formerly employed as a machinist helper for the Western Maryland Railway Company.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death was due to a heart condition.

A spokesman for the brewery said Brant, who began working at the local firm last year, had reported for work on the 4 p. m.-to-midnight shift. The victim said he was not feeling too good prior to beginning his day's work.

About 5 p. m. he was helping unload a box car of empty flat top cans and was pushing them down a conveyor into the bottling house.

A fellow employee, George Drew Jr., who was in the box car being unloaded, said he saw Brant begin to wheel around, fall and roll out of the boxcar to the ground.

Artificial respiration was applied by fellow workers and the victim was taken to the hospital in an ambulance. Brant was employed as a wheel man at the brewery.

He was a native of this city, a son of the late Norman and Vileta (Pitzer) Brant.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Hazel Brant; a son, Glenn R. Brant, city, and three sisters, Mrs. Pauline Kenney, Akron; Mrs. Josephine Twigg, New Castle, Pa., and Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, Corriganville.

Tourist Trade Boosts Economy In Garrett Co.

River Commission Ends Fall Session

Garrett County's economy today is much stronger than it was four years ago and Helmut Heise, president of the Deep Creek and Garrett County Development Association, told the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin that the improvement is almost entirely the result of increased tourist and recreation trade.

Heise was the final speaker at a luncheon yesterday at the William James Hotel in Oakland, where the two-day fall meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin came to an end.

The keynote to the final session was a realistic approach to the present development of the river basin with an eye to future needs.

Bank Deposits Up

Heise told the visitors from Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia and the District of Columbia that in the period between 1951 and 1955 deposits in the two Oakland banks had increased a total of $630,000. This occurred in a time when the county's population was decreasing and no new industries were brought into the Oakland area.

One of the most successful promotions of the area, Heise said, has been the "Autumn Glory Time" in the first two weeks in October. When that was started in 1951 only 35 visitors were counted. There has been a steady growth until last year when 1,500 came to Garrett County on the excursion trains alone.

Statements of gasoline station and restaurant operators attest to its success. The station operators said their "Autumn Glory Time" business was better than over the July Fourth weekend. The restaurant people said their business compared favorably with the best summer weekends.

New Ski Tow

As a new development, Heise called attention to plans for a ski tow on Marsh Mountain. This mountain has a 3,000 foot elevation, a 400-foot vertical incline and is 2,000 feet long.

Edward Couch, registered engineer and ski consultant, has been employed to prepare plans for the ski tow. Within the next two weeks, Heise said, the promoters will know exactly what equipment will be placed on the mountain. The speaker asserted that the Garrett County area compares favorably with the Davis area in Tucker County, W. Va., and has more snow than Laurel Mountain in Pennsylvania.

In a panel discussion yesterday morning, the moderator, Edward A. Ackerman, director of the Water Resources Program for Resources for the Future Inc., gave a resume of the Potomac River and its tributaries.

Keyser To Get Garment Plant

Announcement was made yesterday that the main hangar building at Keyser Airport has been leased by David Klein, president of Keyser Garment Company, from C. Arnold Ludwick, to be used as a women's clothing factory.

The lease is for a five-year period and work is scheduled to start shortly on a program of remodeling the hangar building. A new ceiling must be installed and other improvements made.

A plan is already projected, Klein said, to begin moving machinery from New York to Keyser. No details were given as to the exact type of clothing to be produced, or the number of persons to be employed.

It was stated several days ago, however, that the Keyser Chamber of Commerce and other groups interested in promoting industry in the area had two "live" prospects, and civic groups are continuing their efforts to locate more employers in the Keyser area.
